

Tea on the Green Deli

Looking for that little something different to serve at Christmas or a gift for the foodies in your life? Look no further than the Tea on the Green Deli. Their shelves are groaning with delicious seasonal items.

Kelly Sutton, owner of the Tea on the Green tearooms at Eves Corner in Danbury, has recently taken over the adjacent bakery and delicatessen. "It's such an exciting time and the two businesses complement each other perfectly," says Kelly.

The tea room team bakes many items in-house, such as quiches, gluten free brownies, rocky road, bread pudding and flapjacks.

A local artisan baker delivers fresh, preservative free bread, baked using traditional methods every day. For a sweet treat choose a smiley-faced doughnut, a pecan and caramel slice or a delicious cream bun. If you fancy something savoury, the sausage rolls and Danbury pasties are to die for.

The takeaway sandwich counter is packed with fresh home-made fillings. Choose from slow-cooked salt beef, crayfish with chilli and lime dressing, or coronation chicken.

The array of Christmas fare is huge – sweet and savoury, naughty, but very nice! For those with a sweet tooth try the Raspberry Sherbert Dipper with Raspberry Lollipop, a sophisticated take on the sweets of our youth.

Mojito on toast anyone? Sample this unusual marmalade in the Cocktail Jam gift pack.

And what would Christmas be without a glass of fizz? Especially with the addition of pop-a-ball bursting fruit flavoured juice bubbles!

Award winning Balsamic Dressings and Dips make great gifts for cooks – they'll love the fusion of flavours in the Spiced Fig or Blackberry varieties.

Choose from jams shot through with silver and gold, truffle mustards and oils, pickles and chutneys, luxury cake mixes and baking kits, biscuits and every imaginable type of chocolate.

And if you can't make up your mind, the deli can make up a hamper with your own personal selection. The perfect Christmas gift!
